Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 14 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Hot in the southeast, cloudier further north with some showers.

Today:
Sunny and hot in southeast England, whilst a band of cloud and some rain or drizzle over northern England and Wales sinks slowly south and fades. Breezy with scattered showers in the north and cooler than on Sunday.

Tonight:
Cloudy in the south for a time possibly with a few spots of rain, else mostly dry with clear periods, as showers ease in the far north. Warm in southeast.

Tuesday:
Dry with sunny spells for most places. Rain and strong winds in the northwest later. Fresher than Monday in the south, but still very warm.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Areas of at times heavy, thundery rain likely to move across parts of England and perhaps eastern Wales late Wednesday onwards. Elsewhere fresher with a few showers in the northwest.
